This event marks the launch of the Women's Art Library (WAL) App.

The WAL App provides information about the Women's Art Library and features seven women artists from the Library's archive – see their art, read about their work and listen to their 'in conversation' audio recordings. The 'participate' photographic feature enables you to bring more attention to the Women's Art Library and the work of women artists by making and posting your own 'artist slide' on Instagram, Facebook and Twitter.

The project:

The WAL App is part of a project called How to Make an Archive Travel? located at both the Women's Art Library and the Centre for Invention and Social Process and is led by Dr. Ana-Maria Herman.

For more information about the project visit howtomakeanarchivetravel.wordpress.com and follow updates on Twitter @archivetravels.
